

Summary Profile of Student

An important part of setting students up for success is sharing information and strategies. Many students have HUGE files of information, so we highly recommend you do a one page summary as a quick reference for all staff. Getting parents and current staff to fill in this quick reference together can be extremely helpful as often you see different behaviours and strategies that work. Understanding triggers for meltdowns is very important. By being aware of what causes behaviour you can create a more ASD friendly environment. Remember each student has very different needs.

Student Name: _____

Strengths:

a) _____

b) _____

Challenges:

a) _____

b) _____

Things that may trigger a meltdown:

a) _____

b) _____

Behaviours exhibited before meltdown:

a) _____

b) _____

Best way to approach student when meltdown occurs:

a) _____

b) _____

Important Sensory Notes (e.g. highly sensitive to light touch, noise etc):

a) _____

b) _____

Students the child works well with in group or partner activities:

a) _____

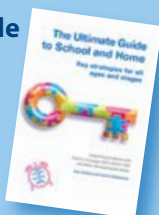

b) _____

RECOMMENDED RESOURCES

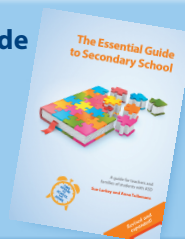

The Ultimate Guide to School and Home

By Sue Larkey and Anna Tullemans

The Essential Guide to Secondary Schools

By Sue Larkey and Anna Tullemans

Teacher Assistants Big Red Book of Ideas

By Sue Larkey and Anna Tullemans

